Prominent Conductor Set For Youth Band Concert

Clarence Sawhill, director of bands at UCLA, and Lucien Cailliet, one of America's most eminent conductors, composers and arrangers, will take part in the Seventeenth Anniversary Concert to be given by the Torrance Area Youth Band in the Torrance civic auditorium on Tuesday evening, May 19, according to James Van Dyck, director of the local music group.

The band has already engaged the services of Rafael Mendez, the "World's Greatest Trumpeter," as guest soloist for the program, the director said.

Sawhill, who will be guest conductor for the concert, is now serving as President of the College Band Directors National Association. This will mark his second appearance as guest conductor of the Torrance Area Youth Band.

Dr. Cailliet, whose music the band will feature on May 19, has won recognition as one of America's leading composer-arrangers. He spent many years as clarinetist and chief arranger for Leopold Stokowski and the Philadelphia

Symphony Orchestra. In addition he was conductor-arranger for the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, and has written and conducted musical scores for many Hollywood films, Van Dyck disclosed.

The band will play on this concert two of Cailliet's latest transcriptions, the "Hansel and Gretel" and "Italian in Algiers" overtures, and one of his earlier and most famous arrangements, the "Lady of Spain." Dr. Cailliet has conducted the Youth Band on two previous Anniversary Concerts and has recently been made the band's "honorary conductor," according to the director.
